The Alternate Logo

When you think of Dan Gable there are a lot iconic images that come to mind. Each image has an incredible back story from a different time in his life. We like to think Gable has more iconic poses than Michael Jordan, but we might be biased on that. Last year we wanted to pay respect to the namesake of the tournament and honor these different poses and periods in Dan's life by starting the alternate logo series.

We present to you the 2nd in the alternate logo series, the pose of Dan Gable wearing his gold medal from the 1972 Olympics. Gable earned his spot at the top of the podium by defeating six opponents (pinning three of them) all without allowing a point. In the championship match, Gable defeated the Soviet Union's Ruslan Ashuraliyev with a score of 3-0.

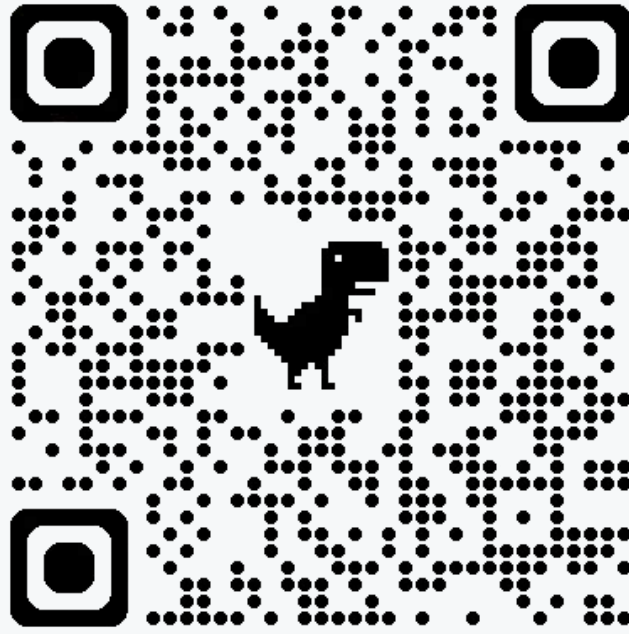

Following the 1972 Olympics, Dan Gable joined the University of Iowa Wrestling Program as an assistant head coach to Gary Kurdelmeier. Four years later, Gable took over the program and went on to become the University's all-time winningest coach. During his tenure, he coached 152 All-Americans, 45 National Champions, 106 Big Ten Champions and 12 Olympians, including four gold, one silver and three bronze medalists.
